COVID-19 UPDATE

ALL UCB MEMBERS

IMPORTANT INFORMATION QR CODE CHECK IN ON DELIVERIES

It has been brought to our attention that there is a lack of clarity around deliveries to store. UCB have spoken to all of our trade partners to ensure they have a policy which covers their employees. However it is vital that as a site accepting a delivery, you make all staff understand they are responsible for enforcing all QR Code check ins as part of your own CovidSafe plan. A delivery driver is a contact so he must check in using the QR Code as per State Government guidelines, as your staff and customers do. There must be a QR Code sited at every entry point into a store (check you have one at your back door) and you are responsible for ensuring every delivery driver, courier and any other visitor to your store uses your QR code to check in.

For state by state detail, please check your Government Health Website.

Each of us have an important role to play in helping ourselves (and others) to get through the current crisis. In our industry that means doing three things, namely:

1. Being familiar with the changing Covid-19 restrictions and taking all reasonable additional precautions to make our workplaces and customer environments safe.
2. Being aware of aware and accessing the financial assistance that is being made available by various Australian governments to keep our businesses strong – and helping our employees to do the same.
3. Supporting each other at a time of heightened anxiety.

It is fair to say that this is a challenging time but, contrary to much of the news being reported, Australian governments are working cooperatively with industry associations like ACAPMA to provide all necessary information on restrictions and to address issues as they arise.

ACAPMA and UCB are working hard to ensure that all of our members – and indeed the entire industry – is supported with all necessary information as it becomes available, please follow our regular Covid-19 Updates.
