COVID - 19 Update

During the current Covid -19 emergency, each day just after midday, UCB will send you the latest updated information as we have it in an electronic message. If there is no updated information we will not send any communication.

The information will be based on links from government websites or from our Industry Body ACAPMA. We will endeavour to steer clear of opinions and to avoid repeating anything from previous days, unless a specific document has been updated.

It is important to understand that there may be state specific regulations, or rules introduced in your local area, which we will leave for you to research.

One piece of advice we feel is vital – “Only get your information from official sources” Face Book, Twitter, messenger groups & local discussion forums can be helpful in their own way, but sometimes the info isn’t as factual as it should be.
